Dr. Danny Sands is one of the pioneers of the “e-patient” movement, exemplified by his patient Dave deBronkart. Dr. Sands is senior medical informatics director for Cisco, maintains a primary care practice, and has received numerous awards for leadership in health IT. Dave’s high tech career made him a natural “e-patient.” As Founding Co-Chairs of the Society for Participatory Medicine, they were recognized in the 2009 HealthLeaders “20 People Who Make Healthcare Better.”
